THE NEW CUBAN POLICY

Garcia Discusses the Proposed Recall of Brooke.

President McKinley Said to Be Con templating a Change Preliminary to His Report to Congress-Martial Law Held Responsible for the Continued Priction in Havana.

The Administration is guarding carefully all information relating to reforms to be made in Cuba. At the War Department today it was said that when everything has been agreed upon, the facts would then be given to the public. The President wants to make a creditable showing on the administration of affairs in Cuba in his annual message to Congress, and it is said Sagrario turned the letter over to the chief that by the time December rolls around even the Cuban census will have been completed, and thus the first step torwad establishing a stable government for the island will have been taken. But before the census is taken a change, it is asserted by a high authority, will not be made in the office of governor general, which is now held by General Brooke. It is expected that a prominent civilian will be appointed to that important position. General Carlos Garcia, who represents the Cuban National League, said to a Times reporter today that nothing would please the Cubans so much as the news that at the Cabinet meeting the Ad-ministration had considered the needed re-forms of the island, and the appointment of a successor to Governor General Brooke.

"I have believed all along," said General Garcia," that the President intended to act fairly with the Cubans. And that he is considering the recall of General Brooke is no surprise to me. The Governor General is, no doubt, a pleasant gentleman and a good military man, but he is certainly not cut out to handle large questions of civil gov-

"General Brooke has employed military methods in dealing with civil subjects, and hence the friction between the military and civil authorities. Why no one can tell one day in advance whether civil law or martial law will be the order for the next twentyfour hours. I feel the Administration does not approve of this situation, and therefore I am not surprised that a speedy change is to be made in some of the to have expressed sympathy for one of the methods employed in the military govern-

'The people of the United States really have but a faint idea of the immense pow-er exercised by the military authorities in Cuba. There is no regard for the laws which are still in force, in so far that they have never been repealed. The only law is the military. And I am happy to know that the Administration intends to inau-gurate some reform and correct many of the abuses which exist under the form of government now administered in Cuba."
Referring to the criticism of his despatch to General Ludlow by "La Lucha" of Havana, General Garcia said: "La Lucha' says it's presumption for me to wire General Ludlow expressing my opinion of his recent arbitrary act. Well, as a Cuban citizen, I claim the right to criticise the act of any official in Cuba, either military or civil, and whenever I think my people are not fairly tree of I shall not hesitate to say so. Another thing. 'Le Luchn' is a pro-Spanish paper, and does not reflect the views of Cubans who REPORTS ON WORK IN CUBA. General Wood and Others Tell of Many Improvements.

The annual reports of the different military department commanders have all been received at the War Department except that of General Otis. The reports include of the department commanders of Cuba. General Wood in his report says:

The general explains that the idle element was enticed from the seaport towns by the distribution of indigent rations at points in the interior. He adds:

"The courts were re-established and schools opened in nearly all of the towns.
Every effort was made to improve sanitary conditions, with results already reported The rural police organized has done errori-lent service. Civil affairs have been con-ducted as far as possible through civil au-thorities, who have shown ability and es-tablished friendly and cordial relations with the people. Political agitators have been the only element of friction. The end of the year 1898 found the province peace-ful and the recoile generally speaking. ful and the people, generally speaking. at work. A very friendly feeling exists between the inhabitants of this portion of the island and the American troops.

"Two squadrens of cavalry and two battalions of infantry are all the garrisons required. The others should be sent home to establish depot battalions where recruits can be obtained. The squadrons and battalions on duty should be kept at their maximum and recruits sent only during November, December, and early in Janu-ary to give them five or six months in which to acclimate them before the he season. Troops should be maintained in Cuba a number of years, as they must un-dergo the acclimating fevers before being thoroughly serviceable. With the exception of troops stationed near large town during the war having been gathered up General Wood gives a description of the permanent improvements made at Santi-ago, and explains that the water supply has been doubled, the streets improved modern sewerage and water systems introduced and the death rate reduced o half. Surveys have been made for a greatly increased water supply. The depart ment has been equipped with modern as pliances, all swampy lands have been filled in, an emergency hospital has been established, and public buildings have been improved. An ice plant has been built.
What has been done in Santiago has been done to a lesser extent in Manzanillo, where Colonel Pettit improved the sanitary condition of the town. His faithful and intelligent work has been rewarded by a great improvement in the health of the people and a marked diminution of the death rate. The same is true of the work of Colonels Hood and Grubbs at Holguin, of Colonel Wylly and Captain Chatfield at Baracon, and of Colonels Ray, Sargent, and Hooton at Guantanamo. In fact, wherever American troops have been stationed, the policy has been to have their occupation marked by improvements such as men-

CRIMES OF MOUNTAIN MEN.

A Chapter of Tragedy in the Ken tucky Wilds. LONDON, Ky., Sept. 30.-An epidemic of killing seems to have struck Kentucky's mountain counties. Ely Taylor, a young man, was found dead, shot in the front of his house at Dory, Clay county. He is said

Shelby Webb and J. M. Combs had an argument in Leslie county over the merits of their children. They disagreed and Webb shot and killed Combs, who wounded Webb Charles Stout and Perry Monks, of Red Bird, Letcher county, were good friends until Monks' cow went into Stout's corn. Then they had words and Stout shot and killed Monks.

At Beartown, Elliott county, Robert Henderson was drunk and Charles Kozart laughed at him. Then Henderson shot and killed Kozart.

At Cut Shin, Leslie county, Willis Mc-Brayer passed Jim and Phil Riley, former enemics. McBrayer said "Good morning." Jim Riley said McBrayer's speaking to him was an insult. Then McBrayer fired a shot killing hlm and wounding Phil in the arm. At Whitesburg, in Letcher county, Dish-man Holcomb, twelve years old, borrowed a Colt's revolver and ran away from home. His father, ex-county sheriff, overtook him at Black Mountain and ordered him to re-turn. The boy then shot and killed his turn. The boy then shot and father. The boy was captured.

Report of Prospective Concessions to Great Britain.

Says That Temporary Arrangements Are Now Under Consideration - Statements Made by Mr. Cushman Arouse Western Cities.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 30.-It is stated that at Washington on September 13 Assistant Secretary of State Adee told Representative Cushman that the United States would probably make concessions to England in the Alaskan boundary dispute amounting to a virtual surrender of Pyramid Harbor, at the head of Lynn Canal. It is proposed to give Great Britain warehouses privileges at Pyramid and the right of way for the proposed Canadian Government railroad from Pyramid to British territory, the distance being about sixty

The interview between Mr. Cushman and Secretary Adee took place after the former had made three attempts to find Secretary Hay at his office. Mr. Cushman told Mr. Adee that the Northwest would oppose giving England an inch of territory, and that if the United States simply stood for ten marine leagues from water, according to the treaty, there would be no need of coneding anything.

Mr. Adee advanced the idea that the proposed settlement was but temporary. Mr. Cushman replied that if concessions were made they would merge into perma-

Western cities are aroused over Mr. Cushman's interview with Adee, realizing that the proposed concession of Pyramid Harbor will absolutely shut out American trade in British Yukon territory. A strong protest will be made against closing the negotiations with England before Congress meets.

Mr. Adee, on being asked about the re-ported interview today said that as his conversation with Mr. Cushman covered much of what had been suggested on both sides for the past two years, it would seem that Mr. Cushman had not distinguished between suggestions put forward by Great Britain early in the discussion which were not accepted, and pending suggestions which may or may not eventuate in an understanding.

There is no proposition now pending which would amount to a virtual concession of Pyramid Harbor. The temporary arrangement as to the marking of a divis-ional point on the Dalton trail leading in-land from Skaguay and continuing the provisional marking which has existed on the Chilkoot and White Passes for the last two years, is confined to that, and embraces no lease or port privileges at the head of Lynn Canal. A suggestion as to granting a limited warehouse privilege at Skaguay or other convenient place, with facilities for access and transportation by railway has been under consideration, but without definite outcome so far.

A LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT.

White Bouse Reception. The following letter has been received by the President from the Pan-Presbyterian Assembly in acknowledging the courtesy show that body at the reception tendered it at the White House Wednesday:

dered it at the White House Wednesday:

The members of the Seventh General Council of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches throughout the world holding the Presbyterian system, now in session in this city, desire to express respectfully their grateful appreciation of the honor done to the Alliance, and the kindness shown to themselves in the reception given at the Executive Mansion on the evening of Wednesday, 21th instant, by the President and Mrs. McKinley. It was a peculiar gratification to us to be honored by the President of the United States on the first day of our assembling, together with such a graceful and significant declaration of interest in the work of our Alliance, as tending to promote "Glory to God in the highest and peace on earth."

May the blessing of the Supreme Ruler abide on all your labors as Chief Magistrate of this great republic, and in the home in which we found such courteous welcome and generous hospitality.

The document is signed by the president, general secretary, and American secretary of the Alliance. FREIGHT CAR ADVERTISING.

A Novel Proposition Rejected by a Big Railway. For the exclusive privilege of displaying signs and bills on all the freight cars of this sys- with pride of the relationship. tem in advertising $150,000 per year has been offered. The plan of the bidder is to get control of the boxcars and make contracts with mercantile companies to place there advertisements thereon. Though the offer was tempting it has been declined by the managers of the road for numerous reasons. In the first place, a railroad gets considerable advertising itself by having its name on its cars. Then the managers believe the innovation would disfigure the cars and make it difficult for trainmen to read the num-

MORPHINE WRECKS A HOME. Wife's Slavery to the Drug Leads to Desertion and Divorce. YORK, Pa., Sept. 30 .- Another divorce rowing out of the craze for morphine tha is widespread in this city has been granted by Judge W. F. Bay Stewart. The plaintiff was Bert A. Rebling, formerly of Hanover and at present employed as a brakeman or the Western Maryland Railroad. The testimony was that while Rebling was at work on the railroad his wife frequented an opium joint and there met a prominent young man about town, who won her affections after he had plied her with with the young man since February. Both are slaves of the drug, and it is said are living in Philadelphia. They went there because the supply of the drug was
